Timothy Allen Gray is this week's student of the week. Timothy joined the academy in the Fall of 2010. He is a member of the physics and astronomy research cluster working with Dr. Pollock and he is currently seeking a degree in Physics.

Timothy is from Fayetteville, North Carolina and graduated from Terry Sanford High School in 2010. His favorite subject is Physics. Timothy enjoys anime, strategy games, alternate history, and science fiction.

Timothy's most memorable moment from the Academy thus far was how much interest and enjoyment others had with his group’s presentation last year. When asked to provide a quote about how his experience in the Academy, Timothy quoted Friedrich Nietzsche, from Beyond Good and Evil: "He who fights monsters should see to it that he himself does not become a monster. And if you gaze for long into an abyss, the abyss gazes also into you." Timothy plans on going to graduate school, and hopefully to doctorate school and he aspires to become a professional at a research college focusing on astrophysics or possibly nano-science research.
