This week’s student of the week is Patrick James Tracey. He hails from Thomasville and attended Davidson Early College High School. He was ranked 24th in his graduating class and his favorite subject is physics. He is currently a dual physics and math major. His favorite sports are Football, Soccer, and Hockey. He also has 10 years of martial arts training. His favorite memories of the Academy are of last year’s study halls with Jeremy. Upon graduation he would like to explore various research opportunities or work on projects that allow him to apply his knowledge to real life situations. When asked to provide a quote about the academy Patrick said this,

“I've always tried to live my life by a simple set of beliefs: do as little harm as possible, do what good you can and in fairness let nobody call you a hypocrite”
