Alice Culbertson is this week’s student of the week. Alice joined the academy in the fall of 2011 after being a member of the Summer Bridge Program during the summer of 2011. She is in the Computer Science research cluster working with Dr. Parks and she is currently seeking a degree in Computer Science.

Alice is from Black Mountain, NC and graduated from Owen High School in 2011. Her favorite subject was Equine Science from high school and she enjoys horseback riding and writing.

Alice does not have a most memorable moment from being a student in the academy but has instead enjoyed her entire time thus far. When asked to provide a quote about her experience in the academy, she said, “If it ain’t broke, don’t fix it.” Alice plans to own a ranch after she graduates while teaching beginner horseback riding lessons. She plans to do things related to her computer science background to keep money flowing into her pocket.
