Activities are meant to be to be started with a good faith effort and ideally completed by the end of the listed day (or earlier, as they are already open!). However, there's some built-in flexibility: the final deadline is 10 a.m. on the next academic day. I strongly encourage you to work ahead and finish items when listed to stay on track. Every item on this PDF calendar is a "To do" or "Mark as done" item in ASULearn that must be "Done" at a passing level. This includes marking that you read postings, feedback and readings plus successfully completing interactive videos, quizzes, handwrites, re-engages, debriefs, and any other assigned activities. Strict 10 a.m. deadlines apply to handwrites and major assignments. Other items should be attempted on the day they are listed, but second-chance opportunities will remain open until 3/3 at 10 a.m. Some days are lighter than others and it will help you to progress on upcoming activities in advance. Note that the ASULearn Calendar may not show all required items. Always refer to this PDF calendar, my announcement postings, and the grey headers followed by activities on our main ASULearn page for a complete list.

I will post regularly in the Dr. Sarah's announcement forum and possibly also in the need help forum. Reading these posts is required and I recommend keeping up with my posts as they go out to you. I will also provide feedback regularly in assignments themselves, both instant feedback that I programmed in and personalized feedback on your handwrites. Your Google grades sheet is updated regularly so you can see where you stand and what remains. Wait a number of seconds to be sure the most current data has all loaded in as sometimes the date loads in before the grades.
