Krista Cornehl

Timeline Bibliography

"Aristarchus (310-230 BC)." Internet. 2 May 2003. Available:
        http://astrosun.tn.cornell.edu/courses/astro201/aristarchus.html.

Bell, E. T. (1937). Men of Mathematics. New York: Simon and Schuster.

Boyer, C. B. (1991). A History of Mathematics (2nd Ed.). New York: John Wiley &
        Sons, Inc.

Ferguson, K. (1999). Measuring the Universe. New York: Walker and Company.

Gingerich, O. (1992). The Great Copernicus Chase and Other Adventures in Astronomical History. Cambridge: Sky Publishing Corporation.

"Greek Astronomy." Internet. 24 Apr. 2003. Available: http://www-groups.dcs.st
        -and.ac.uk/~history/HistTopics/Greek_astronomy.html

Kline, M. (1972). Mathematical Thought from Ancient to Modern Times. New York:
        Oxford University Press.

Maor, E. (1998). Trigonometric Delights. Princeton: Princeton University Press.

"Mathematical Discovery of Planets." Internet. 24 Apr. 2003. Available: http://www-groups.dcs.st-and.ac.uk/~history/HistTopics/Neptune_and_Pluto.html.

Neugebauer, O. (1957). The Exact Sciences in Antiquity (2nd ed.). Providence: Brown University Press.

Newman, J. R. (1956). The World of Mathematics (Vol. 1). New York: Simon and Schuster.

Ronan, C. A. (1961). Changing Views of the Universe. New York: The Macmillan Company.

Smith, G. "A Brief History of Astronomy." San Diego: University of California, Center for Astrophysics and Space Sciences. Available:
        http://casswww.ucsd.edu/public/tutorial/History.html.

Turnbull, H. W. (1993). The Great Mathematicians. New York: Barnes and Noble Books.