

The Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing

Lindsey Titus, a Computer Science S-STEM scholar, is attending the Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing conference on a scholarship sponsored by the National Science Foundation (NSF). She will be reimbursed for her flight, ground travel, lodging, and food for the duration of the conference. This year, NSF received over 1800 applications and only accepted about 26% of the applications. Lindsey's spot on the scholar page can be found at, <http://gracehopper.anitaborg.org/2015-scholars/titus-lindsey-app317s1/>

Conference Details

- Place: George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston, TX
- Dates: October 14-16, 2015
- This is a three day conference which combines technical sessions with career sessions
- Also includes:
 - Poster Session
 - Career Fair
 - Awards Ceremony
- The conference website link is:
 - <http://gracehopper.anitaborg.org/>

If you have any further questions feel free to contact Lindsey at:

- titusla@appstate.edu

