

Science Style

- Split up into 2 teams.
- Person 1 on each team will be able to get a card from me when you hear “Bill Nye.” They will whisper the message on the card to person 2, so that only person 2 can hear it. Person 1 and the card are now out of play.
- Person 2 whispers that to (only) person 3 and then person 2 is out of play.
- Every person on your team must be whispered to similarly.
- The last person will write down the message and hand it in.
- First team in who follows the rules wins.

Your team may arrange yourselves however you want, and may rearrange during the game play, if you like, but cannot violate the above rules.

“Science Style” by The George Center will play during the game.
